COULD HEAR IN GERMAN.

A Horse That Was Not Used to Instructions in Any Other Language.

"I bought a horse at an auction not long ago," said an Eighth avenue butcher, according to the New York Press, "and I thought I had got a bargain until I tried him a few days; then I concluded that I had been stuck. The horse was sound, had good sight, but he would not obey commands. He would not stop when the driver said 'Whoa!' nor start when he said 'Git up.' The animal seemed to be deaf, and the first chance I got I sold him to a German baker at a sacrifice. 'Shortly after that I met the baker, and he shook my hand cordially and expressed himself as being very much pleased with the horse I had sold him. I wondered at this and asked if the horse seemed to have any difficulty in hearing. To my surprise, the baker said the horse could hear as well as any horse he ever had. 'Does he stop when you say 'Whoa!' and start when you say 'Git up?' I asked. 'Oh, no!' exclaimed the baker, 'I don't say dot! I talk to him in German!' 'That horse must have belonged to a German before he was put up at auction. That is the only way I can account for his actions.'"

Congressional Pleasantries. Champ Clark was making a speech in the house a few days ago when Mr. Mann, of Illinois, was called out of the hall on business. He was gone some time, but when he returned the same robust voice was still making the echoes. "Is Clark still championing?" asked Mr. Mann, frivolously, of Mr. Mudd, of Maryland, who was just coming out. "He's championing a little bit," responded Mr. Mudd.—Washington Letter.

Overheard on the Pike. Mr. Easy—"Why should people visiting The Exposition at night, use more Allen's Foot-Ease than in daytime?" Miss Foot—"Because under the brilliant illumination of the grounds, every foot becomes an acre!" Mr. Easy—"Fair, Only fair! Pray, conduct me to the nearest drug store and I promise never to accept a substitute for you or for Allen's Foot-Ease."

FOOT NOTE—The twain will be made one in June. "Yes," he said "I once saw a prince." "Oh," she asked, clasping her hands and looking with awe into the eyes that had gazed upon royalty, "what was he doing?" "Trying to balance a feather duster on his nose for the amusement of a chorus girl."—Chicago Record-Herald.

According to a recent bulletin of the department of agriculture, ten cents' worth of peanuts contains "four ounces of protein and 2,577 calories of energy," but no mention is made of the 1,400 pounds of dyspepsia.—Kansas City Star.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my three years ago.—Mrs. Thos. Robbins, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

It begins to be apparent now why the czar thought up that idea of a peace court at The Hague.—Boston Globe.

TIRED, SUFFERING WOMEN.

Women run down and endure daily tortures through neglecting the kidneys. Kidney backache makes housework a burden; rest is impossible; sleep fitful; appetite gives out and you are tired all the time. Can't be well until the kidneys are well. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, which have restored thousands of suffering women to health and vigor.

Mrs. William Wallace, of 18 Capitol St., Concord, N. H., says: "I was in the early stages of Bright's Disease, and were it not for Doan's Kidney Pills, I would not be living to-day. Pain in the back was so intense that at night I had to get out of bed until the paroxysm of pain passed away. I was languid and tired and hadn't the strength to lift a kettle of water. I could not work, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me, and two boxes absolutely cured me."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Wallace will be mailed to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box.

HE REALIZED LATER.

Mr. Bore (12:05)—I must go; it's getting late.
Miss Caustique—Better late than never.

Both Sides of It. When a man gives ear to gossip, He, with a smiling face Is sure to make remarks about The woman in the case. But he always overlooks the fact That, since the world began, There's been no woman in the case In which there was no man.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Easy Either Way. They were discussing domestic matters with masculine confidence. "There's only one way to keep a cook," asserted one. "How is that?" asked the other. "Marry her."

"But suppose you're already married?" "Easy again. Any time that you can't make the cook your wife, why, make your wife the cook."—Brooklyn Eagle.

JUVENILE INNOCENCE.

Haynes—You shouldn't ask for an orange when we're visiting.
Virginia—I didn't. I just took it.—Detroit Free Press.

The Better Way. You say that tumbling drunken men Are seldom hurt at all. And here's another truth to learn; If men the fiery stuff would spurn, They wouldn't even fall.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Hard to Understand. Gilholly—You say your wife is in a bad humor? Pennybunker—Yes, she is. "What is she angry about?" "In the first place, she got angry at the servant girl, then she got angry at me because I didn't get angry at the servant girl, and now she is angry at herself because I got angry at her because she got angry at the servant girl. Do you understand?"—Tit-Bits.

Comparisons of Time. The warship truly is a grand But perishable rinket. It takes five years to build it and A half an hour to sink it.—Washington Star.

LIKELY TO LAST.

He (after the acceptance)—Have you never loved anyone so much as you do me?
She (thoughtfully)—Not in the spring.—N. Y. Weekly.

Cause and Effect. She—Gracious, how the wind does howl to-night!
He—Yes; it probably has the toothache.
She—The toothache!
He—Yes. Have you never heard of the teeth of a gale?—Chicago Daily News.

Question of Degree. Wagner—Is it proper to say "drank," or "drunk?"
Jagner—It depends altogether on how far gone you are.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

His Position. "I have heard or read somewhere," mused the young lover, "that Wordsworth, or some such name, the poet—I believe he was a poet, or something of the kind—once described woman, if I haven't forgotten the way the remark ran, as being 'A creature not too bright or good for human nature's daily food.' I don't know exactly what he meant—but, anyhow, I do know one thing: She is sweet enough to eat—Gladys Jones is!"—Puck.

The Shortage of Power. It had already grown quite dark, and there was something wrong with the electrical apparatus in the hotel. "What's the matter here, anyway?" asked a man of the hotel clerk. "Won't you please give us some light?" "I'd be very glad indeed to accommodate you, sir," replied the clerk, "if I only had the power."—Detroit Free Press.

HAD TO FIGHT BIG ODDS.

Mr. Wanta Noe—Did your husband die peacefully?
Mrs. Berrymore—No; he had three doctors.—Chicago Chronicle.

Real Swell. "This," said Mrs. Porcupaque, exhibiting a diamond-studded gold chain, with gold clasps at each end, "is for my husband's birthday. I had it made special." "But what is it? What are the clasps for?" inquired Mrs. Ascum. "Why, don't you see, it's a napkin holder; holds his napkin right up under his chin."—Philadelphia Press.

Not True to Nature. A visitor to a museum reports that he saw a countryman standing before the bust of a woman in a collection of statuary. The woman was represented in the act of coiling her hair, and as the visitor came up the countryman was saying to himself: "No, sir; that ain't true to nature. She ain't got her mouth full o' hairpins."—Tit-Bits.

NOTHING SERIOUS.

"I tell you that girl is dying for me."
"Humph! I haven't seen the family doctor at her house lately."—Chicago American.

Contentment. Contentment does not spring from wealth. We are told, and that may be; And yet we know it doesn't flow From grinning poverty.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Referred to the Ad. Man. "I am deeply interested in discovering the Lost Tribes of Israel," said Mr. Musty, as he came in and sat down by the busy editor for an hour's discussion of the subject. "So?" replied the man of resources. "Why don't you advertise for them? The business office is on the first floor. Here, Dan, show the gentleman to the advertising department."—Tit-Bits.

In Arizona. Stranger—What's that crowd across the way?
Native—That's our string band. Stranger—You don't say! Going to give an entertainment, I suppose.
Native—Yes; going to string up a hoss thief.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just So. Little Clarence—Pa, why do they call the end of a college student's school life the commencement?
Mr. Callipers—Oh, because that is when the matter-of-fact old world commences to take the conceit out of him.—Puck.

Sense of Danger. "So you have quit eating patent food?" "Yes," answered Mr. Bilgins. "You know they advertise to make brain, and I'm afraid I'll get to be a regular genius, and have to wait for post-hits to appreciate me."—Washington Star.

IT WAS NOT APPRECIATED.

Minister's Wife Had a Flower Hat and Put It in the Wrong Place.

A story is told by the Chicago Inter Ocean of a woman in that town, the wife of a young minister, who has always had a liking for hats of the flower-bed variety, although she condemned others for wasting money that should go to the heathen. At present she owns a "dream" of a "sky piece," that is covered with violets. The young wife wore this hat to a funeral recently, at which her husband officiated. Going into the room which contained the coffin she removed the hat and placed it on a stand.

The sad-faced, sleek-haired undertaker came in a few minutes later to arrange the "floral tokens" on the coffin. After putting the bouquets, wreaths, pillows, broken wheels, and the usual run of flowers in place, he picked up the violet-covered hat and tenderly placed it on top of all the rest.

Several of the "mourners" giggled, and the minister's wife wanted to grab her hat and run. She had to let it alone, however, until the close of the ceremony. When she marched past the bier she lunged for the hat and successfully made her escape.

An Ohio Notary. Salineville, O., May 23.—Mr. John W. Manning, Notary Public for Columbiana County and one of the most respected men of the state, has caused to be published the following letter:

"About one year ago, I was suffering terribly from Kidney Trouble. I saw an advertisement of a medicine called Dodd's Kidney Pills and sent for two boxes. 'In the meantime, I suffered awfully, and as soon as I got the Pills I began taking them according to directions and not almost immediate relief, and I have this further to say, that after using the two boxes, I have never been troubled with my kidneys since.'

Mr. Manning's letter is a strong recommendation for Dodd's Kidney Pills and the attention of all who suffer with kidney troubles.

History's Hilarity. Hiawatha and his prospective father-in-law were sitting before the latter's tepee. "I was looking for hints for arrowheads over the ridge to-day," remarked the young brave, "and found several quartz."

"I must tell that to my daughter," the arrowmaker chuckled. "It will make Minnehaha."—Detroit News.

U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA

Recommends Pe-ru-na

For Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Catarrh of the Stomach is Generally Called Dyspepsia—Something to Produce Artificial Digestion is Generally Taken.

Hence, Pepsin, Pancreatin and a Host of other Digestive Remedies Have Been Invented.

These Remedies Do Not Reach the Seat of the Difficulty, Which is Really Catarrh.

EX. U. S. Senator M. C. Butler from South Carolina, was Senator from that state for two terms. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., says:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine besides a good tonic."—M. C. Butler.

The only rational way to cure dyspepsia is to remove the catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh. Peruna does not produce artificial digestion. It cures catarrh and leaves the stomach to perform digestion in a natural way. This is vastly better and safer than resorting to artificial methods or narcotics.

Peruna has cured more cases of dyspepsia than all other remedies combined, simply because it cures catarrh wherever located. If catarrh is located in the head, Peruna cures it. If catarrh has fastened itself in the throat or bronchial tubes, Peruna cures it. When catarrh becomes settled in the stomach, Peruna cures it, as well in this location as in any other.

Peruna is not simply a remedy for dyspepsia. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Peruna cures dyspepsia because it is generally dependent upon catarrh.
